PASTORS' PAGES

August Greetings!

As I write this, I've enjoyed spending much of my time this week outside with the kids at Vacation Bible School! One of the many blessings of our Outdoor facility is all the wide-open space for over thirty kids to run around to their hearts' content as they learn about Jesus. They had such fun playing games, singing songs, eating snacks, and enjoying beautiful sunny days as their faith grew, and they made new friends. It's also nice to have the two different shelters for shade when it's needed and some down time as well. A huge thanks to all the adult helpers, donations for the camp counselors' meals, and all those who helped in different ways with Vacation Bible School this year. We are also grateful for the significant Crosslake Lutheran Endowment funds that make VBS so affordable for families. See inside for some great VBS pictures!

I am very grateful now to be working with both Lindsay Paulson, our new Director of Youth and Family Ministry, and Pastor Becky Swanson as they each began in June and July respectively. This month of August doesn't give us a lot of time, but at least a little time, to do some basic planning, and get some things in order for the school year that will begin soon! We all recognize that it does take a while for people to acclimate to any new position. This is especially true in ministry with the rhythms of church life. So, I need to remind myself, and we can all remember to be patient and as the year goes along, we will be able to offer new and different ministry opportunities as we also make sure that we have sufficient input and planning from our congregation in figuring out how we want things to go and God wants things to go in our ministry and mission. It's an exciting time!

This August, we can look forward to the Sunday SING event on Sunday, August 6, at the Outdoor worship service. This will be a unique, uplifting sing-along worship service for all ages and all singing abilities - invite your family, friends and neighbors too! And we can also look forward to Bible Study, on Wednesday, August 9 at 10AM when Father George Martin, an Episcopal priest, who is also a member at Lutheran Church of the Cross in Nisswa will present and discuss his book entitled: Paul Found in His Letters. See inside for more information.

We hope you are enjoying these beautiful summer days and can join us for gathering, growing, and going together as disciples of our Lord Jesus Christ!

In Christ,
Pastor Kristin

Embracing the Journey: Lifelong Discipleship Practices and the Art of Becoming

Life is a sacred journey, and at the heart of our pilgrimage lies the essence of discipleship – the art of continuous growth and transformation. Like a river flowing to the sea, the call to discipleship carries us onward, guiding us toward a deeper union with the Divine Mystery of being included in the life of the Trinity.

At Crosslake Lutheran we offer foundational experiences for setting our children on the path of a lifetime of following Jesus. From Growing Kids (K-4), After School (5-6 grades), confirmation and youth group (7-12) we have an age appropriate opportunity for children to grow in their faith and knowledge of God.

Our Wednesday at 10:00 am Bible Study is an opportunity to engage in another practice of reading and reflecting upon sacred texts. Engaging with scriptures, and other authors gives us the opportunity to align our lives with timeless truths. Such insights offer a new lens through which we view the world, deepening our empathy and compassion for all beings.

Orientation for Wednesday Faith Formation and Confirmation is scheduled for September 13 at 6:15 PM and the programs kick off on September 20.

There is more to living the life of a disciple than intellectual knowledge. We are also called to act together as the Body of Christ in ways that point to Jesus.

As we move into the program year, we will be searching out ways to engage you actively in your own discipleship journey. This will mean new opportunities for study, fellowship, service, etc. Ultimately, we'd like to have ways for each person, in each different time of life, to have a faith formation experience that is relevant and helpful to living that life of a Jesus Follower.

The path of discipleship also leads us to embrace selfless service. Another significant aspect of discipleship is embracing uncertainty and vulnerability. To grow spiritually, we must be willing to relinquish our attachments to certainty and control. Through discipleship, we learn to live in harmony with the rhythms of life and find a sense of recognizing God's peace in us, even amidst chaos.

The journey of lifelong discipleship is a transformative dance with the divine, a pilgrimage of the soul that spans a lifetime. Embracing contemplation, sacred learning, selfless service, and vulnerability, we open ourselves to the profound benefits of knowing God more intimately every day. I invite you to embark on this sacred adventure, embracing the beauty of becoming and awakening to the interconnectedness of all things. For in doing so, we step into the radiant fullness of God's love, guided by the ever-present Mystery that calls us home.

In Christ's service with you,
Pastor Becky

AUGUST BIBLE STUDY

Wednesdays at 10 am

Join us for Bible Study in August on Wednesday, 2 and Wednesday, 9 at 10:00 AM

Wed., Aug. 2 – Pastor Becky will lead a discussion on the readings for Aug. 6

Wed., Aug. 9 – Father George Martin, member of Lutheran Church of the Cross in Nisswa will present and discuss his book, published in 2022, Paul Found in His Letters

This is how he describes his book:

Meeting a different Paul based on his letters.

The premise of Paul Found in His Letters is that scholars agree on 7 of the letters ascribed to Paul as ones he definitely wrote. There are disagreements about the other 6 attributed to him. With the seven letters at the heart of this book we find a Paul who once had privilege, but after an apocalyptic revelation of Jesus as Messiah he became a traveling apostle who lived with the most marginalized and desperate people in the Roman Empire. To them he brought the message of the Risen Lord. In a world where women were always second class citizens, this Paul had women working alongside of him, and mentions one woman, Junia, who was an apostle before him. Calling himself a “slave of Christ” was not only unheard of as a voluntary appellation, it meant that he was inviting the vast numbers of slaves to have dignity and self-worth that was always denied. There is so much more to know about this Paul.

Join us at 10:00 AM for this informative presentation and discussion! If there's interest, we can study this book together this fall.

We will take a break with Bible study for the rest of the Wednesdays in August.

I'm excited to announce a new non-profit organization, Girls Matter Period. One of my co-directors, Paula, travels to South Africa every year to distribute Personal Packs. She wrote a children's book about the out-reach teams that travel to South Africa, including Girls Matter Period. 100% of the profits goes to our group. The cost of one book is $10 which pays for one Personal Pack. I have books available for purchase. It makes a great Christmas gift.

I hope you can join me for our Tuesday, August 8th workshop from 9 to noon in the Fellowship Hall at church. Please bring a sewing machine if you would like to sew. I will have sewing and non-sewing tasks ready to go. If you have any questions, please contact me, sueandbrianc@hotmail.com or 952-356-7516. - Sue Carlson

HEALTH MINISTRY

I hope that you are having a great summer with family, friends and so many fun activities that are available. Music can be so entertaining and recent studies show that music can be healing and have health benefits. If I need a bit more energy to accomplish something, a fun oldies song that I can dance to in my kitchen is a great way to energize me. On the days that I have way too much going on and need a chill out time, there are countless pieces of music that are soothing and help me to relax or even sleep at night. If you are looking for resources, please see me. You Tube is a great free place to find just what you are looking for. Studies have even shown that if you are trying to study or learn something, certain types of music can assist with that. I know that when I am working with someone with memory issues, the thing that most folks can do is to remember the words to songs that were popular when they were younger. There are also new therapies, such as sound baths, that are being offered in the area. It consists of singing bowls or other instruments such as ocean drums that create a healing sound. If you are interested in this, please see me. I love a good sound bath and feel so much better after a session.

In a recent “Flying Solo” session, we talked about ways to help with the loneliness that comes from loss of relationship. Strategies that many felt helpful were joining groups that can be a great way to connect with others in a meaningful way. Being alone does not necessarily mean that a person is lonely but it is so nice to have someone to share the day and have someone to do things with. “The Wild Ones” provides a great way to meet others with like interests and needs. Kitty Daniels does a wonderful job in keeping the group informed about events and other topics of interest. If you need more information about the group, please see me. There are also people that in are relationships/marriages where the spouse is unable or unwilling to be in relationship, so this group may be helpful for those folks as well. Another thing that we talked about is gratitude and how important that is for feeling better each day. Starting a gratitude journal is a great way to keep a list of things that you value each day. I listened to a meditation the other day that asked me to list all my blessings and I spent quite a bit of time doing that. I have a great prompt list if you are interested in starting that.

Fall will include a “Matter of Balance” class that will start later in September and conclude at the end of October so watch for signs for that class. I am also looking for ideas of other classes that you might be interested in so please reach out if you have suggestions.

Enjoy the rest of your summer but stay inside if you have lung issues in light of all the smoke in the environment. Hopefully it will be gone soon, there are so many outdoor things to enjoy!!!

Blessings,

Gail Smith, RN—Parish Nurse
